THE TACO'S OUT OF THE BAG

International taste-trailblazer and world's largest Mexican-inspired restaurant chain Taco Bell is set for a major Aussie taco-ver, with the global giant giving truth to the rumours that a Brisbane opening is imminent.

With Aussie visas in check, it's crunchtime for the California-to-Queensland trek, and city-fringe hub Annerley has been confirmed as the coveted chosen location for Australia's most-hyped restaurant opening of the year.

"It was always Queensland," a Taco Bell representative said. "The people, lifestyle, laidback-ness; it's our own Cali down under so there was never any question."
